Wedding Flower Guide

Emily Liz Photography

Feisty Florals specializes in loose, flowing garden style florals with LOTS of texture, creative blooms, & foliage. We love to take your vision and design something unique to you! No two weddings are the same, and we believe in customizing your florals to fit your day.

Use this guide to see some examples of what structures and floral pieces we love to create for your wedding!

Pricing

Curious about pricing? First, note that it varies widely dependent on season and the specifics of your designs. Here are a few ranges and starting points to help you understand what you might need to budget:

- $1,500-3,000: Just personals or a full-service elopement
- $3,000-5,000: Small-medium (think 120 guests or less) full-service wedding
- $5,000-9,000: Large full-service wedding
- $9,000-15,000+: Very large or florally abundant wedding

Personals

Bouquets - For the bride and her bridesmaids we create carefully crafted bunches of blooms artfully designed in your color palette.

Boutonnieres - small bunch of flowers for pinning. Commonly worn by the groom, groomsmen, minister and family of the bride and groom. Make sure you take an inventory of all the men you'd like one for!

Pocket Square - Floral pocket square instead of a boutonniere! A modern twist on an old classic!

Corsages - available in pin-on or wristlet design. These are often worn by the mothers and grandmothers of the bride and groom.

Cake Flowers - an optional add-on to ensure that your cake has fresh florals to tie in your color palette.

Ceremony

Arch/Arbor - greens and florals attached to a venue provided structure, designed on site

Pedestals* - large arrangements placed on either side of you and your future spouse, framing your ceremony

Floral Nest* - grounded arrangements surrounding you and your spouse-to-be

Floral Pillars* - full floral pillars constructed on-site to frame your sweet ceremony

Aisle Markers* - sweet bunches lining your aisle or framing the end of your aisle

Something else - we love other creations specific to venue and would love to chat through a unique design for your space (think staircases or fireplaces or chandeliers, oh my!)

*Can often (not always) be easily repurposed into reception decor

Reception Pieces

Sweetheart Table - Large arrangement framing the newlyweds

Fireplace - flowing greens and florals decorating a mantle

*fireplace cannot be decorated if it will be turned on during the wedding

Dance Floor - lush arrangements framing your band or DJ & dance floor (good repurposing of a floral nest)

Ceiling - greenery installation with lush florals floating above your guests, creating an enchanting reception space

Staircase - cascading greenery, candles, and floral bundles turn a gorgeous staircase into a fabulous floral install

Guest Table Decor

Bud Vases - several small vases clustered together with several blooms per vase

Compotes/Bowls - large round centerpieces overflowing with lush flowers and greens

Tall Pillars - these are the gorgeous flowing centerpieces that sit above your guests and make a room look stunning

Our personal favorite way to tackle centerpieces is to mix and match some of the above options to break up the space and give it some character!

Candle Rental

Candles are a beautiful way to accent your wedding day, whether that is down the aisle or on guest tables.

Below are the candle rentals options we offer.

Votive Tea Lights

A great accent to a gorgeous floral centerpiece

Floating Candles

Great with florals and greenery surrounding on guest tables, or in tall pillars lining your aisle.

Pillar Candles

Great with florals and greenery surrounding on guest tables, or as an accent to the ceremony/aisle space.

Additional Details

Welcome Tables - small arrangements for welcome and gift tables are often something brides forget.

Cocktail Tables - little bud vases or small centerpieces can elevate a cocktail hour!

Cake Florals - a few sprigs of greens and larger blooms help decorate a cake beautifully!

We love creating something unique and custom for your wedding day! Inquire today to see how any of these arrangements can bring beauty to your event!
